Reflections from the Hill ... The Eastside Story.

This is our story — memorable, distinguished, unique. We are proud of our heritage, proud of our accomplishments, proud to be Raiders.

Listen carefully ...

What they could

Valhalla 2001 is but a reflection of the brief, yet so very influential, part of our lives spent in the classrooms and halls of Northeast. We hope it captures the spirit and pride that resides within the NEHS family.

Talk...

The "Spirit" of Northeast is about to tell its story ...

would say?

The "Eastside" "The Past, Present, and Future" There used to be a point in time Story

There used to be a point in time When the "Eastside" was the place Where everyone wanted to come and live And raise their kids one day.

People everywhere were excited Because Northeast was the school That transformed the minds of those who thought That school was just for fools

Our parents and older siblings Came through this school of fame Striving each and every day To build Northeast's great name.

But today we fight old stereotypes
Because the "Eastside's" predominantly black
Some still refuse to see the truth
Northeast's the best — Now that's a fact.

From the many roads all over town To the historical Fort Hawkins, We have journeyed such a long, long, way Because in our hearts we are walking ...

Walking down the "Eastside" memory lane And remembering the best of times, We know that the joys and struggles of youth In our hearts will everlastingly shine.

Northeast was created just for the "Eastside" Together they are a mighty fold, The "Eastside", strengthened by the spirit of Northeast

Will be remembered by the red, black, and gold.

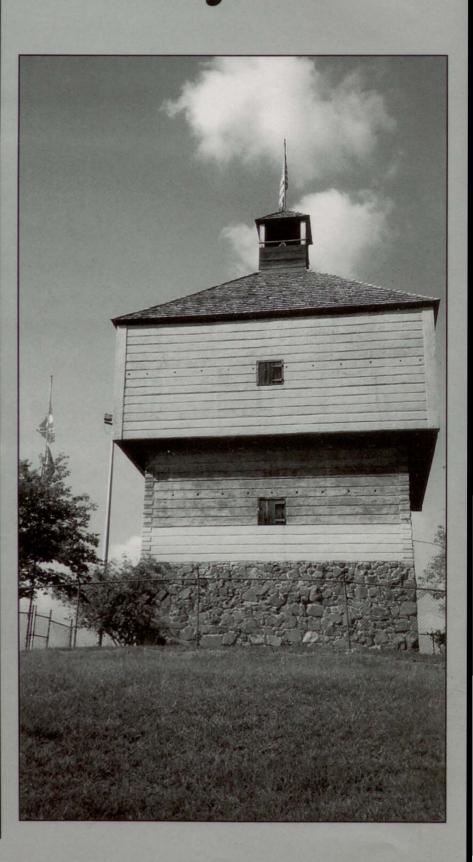

The "Eastside" will always remain on top For the treasures it has to give, Northeast is the greatest of this wealth to be found

And in our children these memories will live.

Live down in our hearts as our legacy grows So we can sit back and reflect one day, To reminisce about how the mighty Northeast Molded us and paved our way.

So may Raider and the "Eastside" pride Come overtake my heart, As I sit down and remember My love for both will never part.

- Jamil Willis

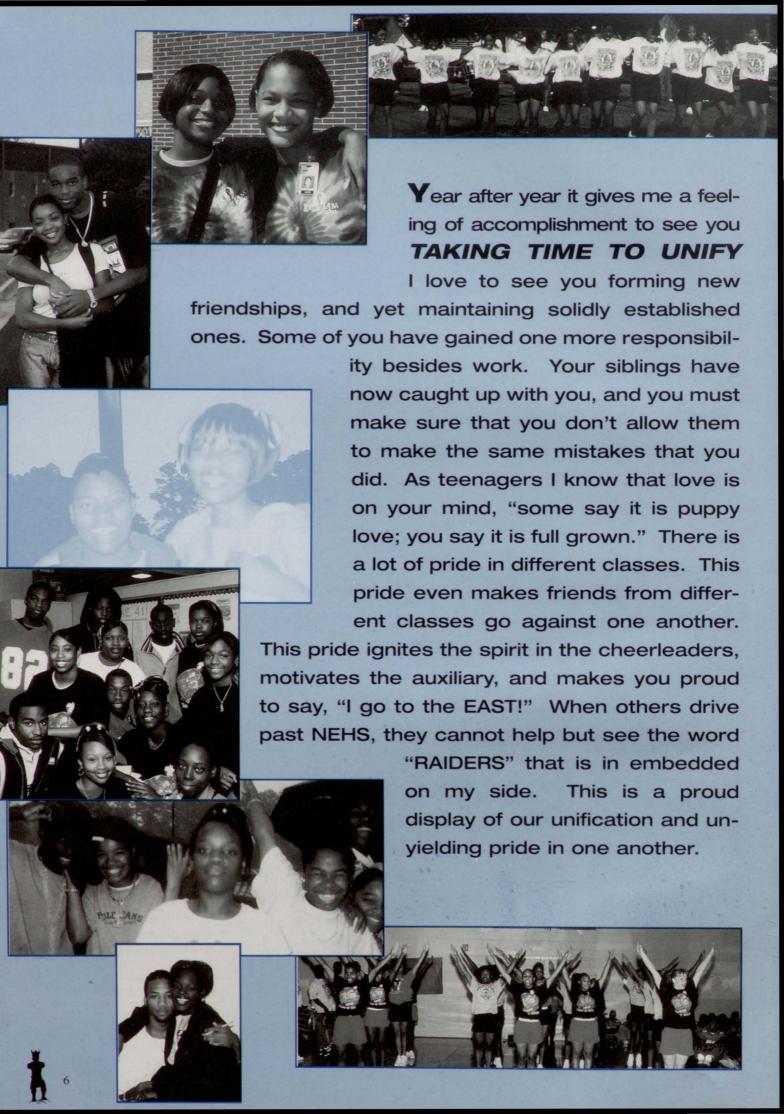

I am a rainbow of many colors filled with chapters of change and history. Enriched by the hands of time, my joyous spirit has risen and fallen, only to rise again. Time has ratted on me, as seen by my cracking walls, sidewalks, and parking lots, Rain seeps its way into my classrooms, finding entrance through my weathered roofs. Time seems to be taking its toll on me. Maybe not. I am now showing Father Time my revived endurance as my body, constructed of three buildings, is undergoing major repairs. Even though my 35 years of age plainly show, I am now aging with dignity. And speaking of my body, I feel like it stretches out like a rubber band across the Eastside hill. Born in 1965, my right arm is Horace S. Lasseter and my left arm is Mark Smith. I can remember by birth like it was yesterday. And I also remember how different things were back then. I was a victim of segregation in those early years, with white females studying in Lasseter and white males in Mark Smith. My cries for integration were finally heard in 1969 and Northeast opened my arms to all youth, regardless of race. What a happy day that was! My body expanded in 1980 with the creating of my legs, the Vocational Building. Now I feel complete. My body is whole and my spirit alive and vibrant. I've had to work hard to keep my history recorded yearly in the NEHS Valhalla. Do you know why I named our yearbook this? means the hall of Odin Valhalla Norse myth. into which t h e

died

means the hall of Odin souls of Raiders who in battle are received. Valhalla 2001 is our own hall, a place to permanently capture, store, and preserve all of our wonderful memories. I hope you enjoy this trip down memory lane.

as told by the "Spirit" of NEHS

see myself as a teenager when I look nology such as two-way paging and cellular phones; but due to school board restrictions, note passing and conversations remain your primary means of communication. Yet, no matter which method you may choose, being in the company of friends is a top priority.

"Dorito's" and "Lay's". My floors are appalled when they witness you throwing good healthy food into the trash. Yet I am thoroughly embarrassed and disgraced when some childish student starts a food fight in the cafeteria in the name of "fun". My windows blink a little tear. I wish that you would not waste your food. But when I look at most of your faces I see relief. This is not only your time to eat lunch, but your time to have a break from class work. I see you all socializing with your friends and having yourselves a marvelous time. Then, to your dismay, the bell rings - it is now time to go back to class and get back to work.

you still find that TAKING TIME TO PREPARE comes natural to you. I see you preparing for your futures everywhere I look! You can be found searching college information on the media center's internet, visiting counselors, applying yourselves in my classrooms, meeting deadlines, practicing on my athletic fields, participating in extracurricular activities, and the list goes on. And I can't help but mention the many tests you take — the PSAT, SAT, ACT, ASVAB, and the unforgettable GHSGT. You make it evident that Raiders will not stand still and let life pass them by. You are willing to do whatever it takes to be confidently prepared for your lives ahead. This brings to mind an old quote: "Some people make things happen, some watch what happens, and some wonder what happened." If you are part of my

Raider family, you make things happen!

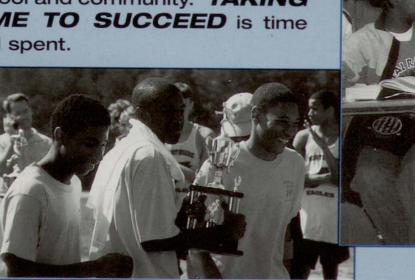

My heart rejoices when you succeed! I love to see you eager to be your best. I celebrate with you as you run down the halls hugging, smiling, and screaming when you pass the Georgia 學是 High School Graduation Test. But I also share in the sadness of those of you who must face the disappointment of not having successfully completed all parts. Your pierced hearts and tear stained faces bruise my heart and feelings as I try to silently console you. But how I admire your steadfast perseverance!

Success requires such commitment and hard work. But the rewards are great! I love your smiles when you flash those high averages on your progress reports. And there's nothing like the sweet smiles of victory on the athletic field, or glowing pride from being recognized by our school and community. TAKING well spent.

You may not like to do it, but Raiders know the key to excelling at school is TAKING TIME TO STUDY! I love when you study. There is no better way to ensure good grades on all those tests and quizzes that my teachers regularly give.

But why do I see so many of you "cramming" at the last minute? Everyday, (especially on Fridays), I quietly observe you sitting crosslegged on my sparkling tile floors, leaning against my freshly painted walls, reading on my benches, and getting passes to the library for those last minute cram sessions. If I can only make you see how much better you will perform if you take the time each and every day to apply yourself in your classes. Preparation and consistency — both are vital, not just for good grades, but for a great education!

Teachers play a most important role in the success of my students. Every year you try to ingrain knowledge and understanding into their minds. You give countless time and effort without any special reward. You are not recognized enough for all of the wonderful things that you try to do for these young men and women. Your purpose is to teach, but you also have to check dress code, check i.d. badges, monitor tardies, and deal with misbehaving children. This should not be such a major part of your job! It hurts me so much when you try to teach and some students do not take full advantage of it. Some of these kids even dare to doze off during class. I occasionally persuade a teacher to drop a book or make that student stand in order to set an example. I wish all of my students would appreciate that you are only here to help them learn so they may anticipate a wonderful and prosperous future. Thank you for TAKING TIME TO TEACH. Teachers please don't give up and abandon my classrooms. My students need you now more than ever. Age and maturity have shown me that most students ultimately take advantage of the knowledge and skills you have shared with them. Remember, to teach is to touch a life

ENGLISH DEPARTMENT

The English Department, chaired by Judy Fultz, offers several courses at Honors, Gifted, and Advanced Placement levels. This department is also in charge of The Salmagundi, the Academic team, and The Valhalla.

MATH DEPARTMENT

The Mathematics Department offers courses ranging from Pre-algebra to Advanced Placement Calculus. This department sponsors the Math Club and is chaired by Thurnell Johnson.

SCIENCE DEPARTMENT

The Science Department, home to the Science Club, offers many courses covering the broad spectrum of the sciences. This department is under the direction of Gail Lewis, chairperson.

MUSIC DEPARTMENT

The Music Department actively emphasizes the fine arts to its students. This department sponsors the school band, under the direction of Mr. Luther Woodall, and the school chorus, under the direction of Janice Davis.

MEDIA CENTER

This school year a very welcomed addition has been made to the Media Center. Lisa Coleman has joined our team in the media center and works hard to ensure that all patrons of the library are completely satisfied.

ART DEPARTMENT

The Art Department works to blend creativity with individuality. In addition to providing seasonal displays of artwork and decorating our halls, the Art department also sponsors the Art Club and is under the supervision of Cariad Reese. Not Pictured: Angeline Allison.

The Media Center is the "information powerhouse" of NEHS. With the help of Crystal Woodley and media specialist Hilda Stuckey students have the opportunity to access unlimited research and texts. They also sponsor the school's Media Club and supervise the production of the morning news broadcast.

FOOD SERVICE STAFF

The Food Service Staff is under the direction of Burnise Grant. With their help, the students of Northeast can go through the school day free of hunger by dining in the cafeteria for breakfast and lunch.

I.S.S.

Mr. Fred Rogers has the sole responsibility of handling Northeast's In-School Suspension program. Mr. Rogers, also known as Coach Rogers, helps coach the football team during football season.

Northeast's JROTC program constantly challenges its youth to "Step up to the challenge!" Through its rigorous program, JROTC motivates and encourages our students to reach their full potential.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

The Physical Education Department at Northeast encourages personal fitness and health. This department is comprised of Coach Carror Wright, Marilyn Sikes, and Floyd Abel.

Our principal, Dr. Eileen Bell, patterns her life after German poet, Johann Wolfgang VonGoethe's idea of what is essential for a complete and successful life: "Health enough to make work a pleasure, wealth enough to support your needs, strength enough to battle with difficulties and overcome them, grace enough to confess your sins and forsake them, patience enough to toil until some good is accomplished, charity enough to see some good in your neighbor, love enough to move you to be useful and helpful to others, and hope enough to remove all anxious fears concerning the future."

TAKING TIME TO

No longer the new travelers, you have walked the two hallways of Valhalla and have two more before Filled with extreme weariness of being freshmen, you are now ready to move on to new levels of challenge. You have adapted to your new environment, and you are ready for the sophomore challenge! You have TAKEN TIME TO GROW. are no longer the lost and confused, but among the knowing. You have grown and hopefully prospered. You are ready to bond with your classmates and become involved in Raider activities. You are now more in touch with the livelihood and sanctity of my wonderful home. You are no longer scared and anxious. You fit as comfortably in my home as a hand in a glove.

The first hall is always the hardest; but you, like those before you, have survived. The hall in which you are now traveling is the hall where academics are emphasized and social status is established. But you, my sophomores will be all right. I know you will pull through. I advise you not to become discouraged or give up. You are amongst the brightest and most level headed students in my home. I have looked out for you thus far and I will continue to do so until you venture from my hallowed halls in 2003.

This has been one year to remember. I have watched you prepare yourselves for your last year of high school and hopefully you will all return and keep me alive.

PAKING

My, my, my! Look-a-here, look-a-here, the first class of the millennium. Who would have "thunk" it. My seniors, you all have so much to offer. I've watched you grow from teens to adults. It was hilarious watching you, some I thought would never make it. After coming from Appling you had a little too much freedom. No one to keep an eye on you, but me. Watching you skip class was not an enjoyment to me, but hopefully, a bad habit you outgrew. So you know I told on you to keep my RAIDERS on track. The Class of 2001 has a lot of potential, and from what I see, a lot of initiative. You are so well involved and true to your class but the things you've been through are unimaginable. In 1997 you first entered my halls and somehow I knew this would be challenging! Challengingly hard. You came wondering my halls lost and confused, asking the wrong people where to go. I couldn't help but chuckle. "Innocent freshmen", you were once called but now you have grownup. In 1998 you were just a little more mature, but not mature enough. You knew your way around the RAIDER territory. By then you had the "big head"; you thought you really knew the ropes of Northeast High, but you were not even close. The rules have changed, and you have had to adapt, but the things you said are humorous. I've been here for a long time and I've heard some things in my day, but your class tops it all. You created some pretty farfetched excuses. My favorite is "I left my ID badge in my last period." Your junior year was calmer and you looked back at your years and realized that you were no longer a mischievous child. You became more focused and involved. I think you were doing everything in sight. It seems like the class of 2000 really didn't exist. Why? Because your class of 2001 took over your junior year. Now let's talk about school spirit. The class of 2001 has always been spirited. And not because of me, but it was always deep in you. I love you all dearly. Sorry, a little emotional there. Now as you finally reach your senior year, you will achieve the highest level in your education so far. Yes it is your year to do hard work and also the year to kick back and have fun. I can't say enough about my first millennium class, if I try to say everything, I would be here all day. You have been educated, molded, respected, and corrected during your time at NEHS. And my halls will never forget the lasting impressions you've made. And most importantly, you are "true": true to yourselves, true to your class, true to NEHS, and especially true to me. You are the true class of the millennium. Northeast High, I present to you the Class of 2001.

RULE

How close have you paid attention to your fellow senior classmates? Have you ever sat and watched the way a person's eyes twinkle? Or the pearly whites that gleam when a person talks? This puzzle is designed to test just how well you pay attention.

Seniors ... there are 136 of you. Do you know them all? This puzzle is to see how well you know your senior class. Find the names of seniors. How many people are within this puzzle? Your guess is as good as mine!

REGILTERS

Is it really Porsha getting behind the wheel of a car? Yes, driving is one of the much anticipated advantages of being a senior. You are free to go where you want and leave when you want. It's one of the first big steps of responsibility that comes with being an adult. I've silently traveled unnoticed alongside many seniors, watching over them on those late night trips home. Oh, the stories I could tell ...

Fighting "Senioritis"

Surgeon General's Warning: Senioritis causes drowsiness, a negative attitude, a sloppiness in appearance and may complicate graduation.

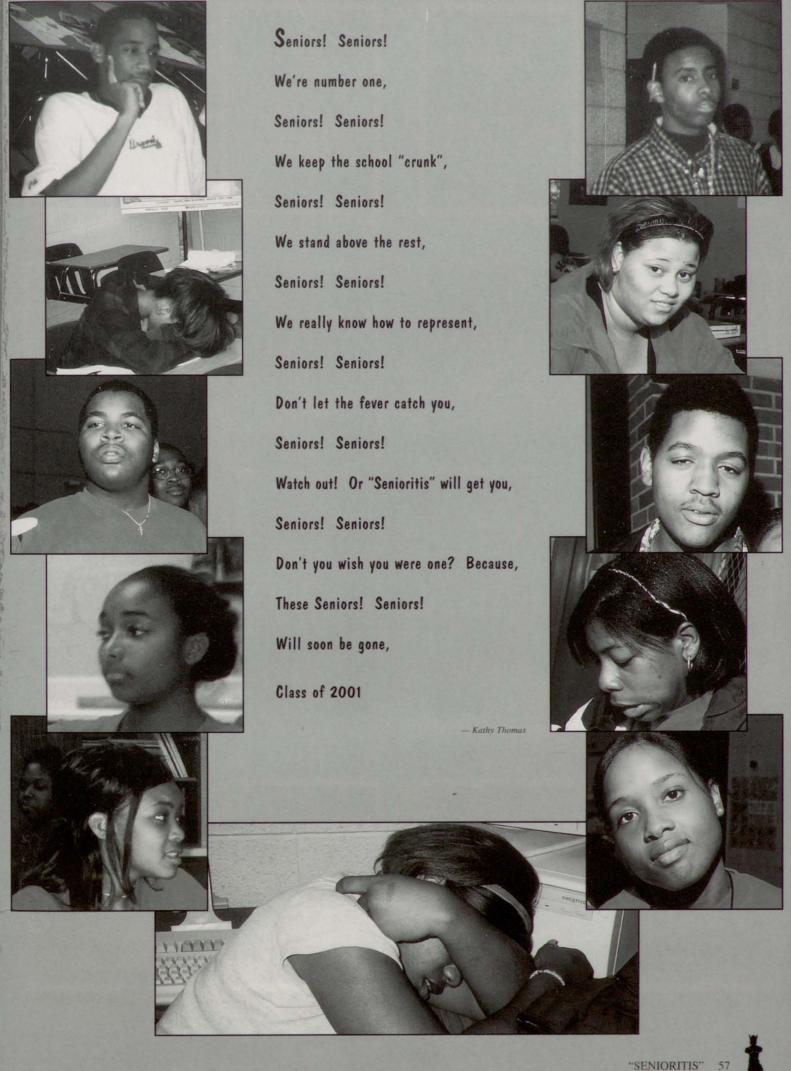

WARNING!!!

56 CLASS OF 2001

This interruption is to warn you of this horrible disease sweeping the Class of 2001. It has gotten to the best of you. Its side effects are "krushal." Is it hard for you to stay awake in class? Are you starting to have a negative attitude about school? Has your appearance changed for the worse? If you are experiencing any of these symptoms then perhaps you have contracted the disease known as "Senioritis." In some incidents people have fallen faint and have had to be hospitalized. Some have even faced near death experiences and doctors have had to revive them. Please beware and take all precautions. There is no cure for this nasty disease during your senior year. But don't despair, because remission and hope are as close as the next pep rally or assembly. So if you feel Senioritis "kick," know that it's only going to last a while because it miraculously fades away on May 26, 2001. So watch out and beware, because Senioritis is coming for you!

N. E. "Spirit"

Here I am again, about to watch another class leave me. You have been here for a while now and have developed your wonderful Raider spirit. I am really going to miss you.

You bought all of the senior shirts and paid for everything that had "Senior" on it. Well it's your last year and you want to go out with a bang! You took millions of pictures for your memory book and you spent a fortune on senior portraits. Being broke kind of became common amongst you; I'm sure of it. But you never got used to it. Also when prom time came around, your pocket never felt so empty; you looked good though.

SENIOR SPIRIT ...

(Melody to "Throw your hands up" - GHPP) Sen-iors get-them up. Sen-iors get-it crunk. Sen-iors just-stomp. Sen-iors just throw that red up. All my Northeast seniors Throw your hands up. If you keeping me alive Throw your hands up. If you're showing Raider Throw your hands up. Reflecting from the Eastside Throw your hands up.

"I'm Back!"

Attention all you seniors
A senior is the thing to be.
I told those underclassmen
That their spirits can't mess with me.
So underclassmen don't shed
any tears
Because I'll be back next year.
If you feel you've got the biggest pride Then you'll have nothing to fear.

(Melody of "Shake it Fast" Mystical)

My windows crack a smile as you run around screaming "I'm a senior! Class of 2001!" The underclassmen know who you are. You flash your ID badges, which you only wear of course, because it has Senior on it. Happy you are! It is your last year and you will soon get to leave.

During the pep rallies you represent the best. You have so much spirit just because you are a senior. Your wonderful senior spirit brightens my structured heart. I love you class spirit and wish we would never have to part. Then, graduation will come and you will leave me. I will be so hurt at first, but, like a memory, your marvelous spirit will still remain in my ever growing heart. Your senior spirit lives on through me.

Throughout my many years at Northeast, I have personally witnessed the dedication and hard work of all my many teachers. But, there is one incredible teacher who goes that extra mile. This person would be a great candidate for President of Northeast; instead he just voluntarily assumes this role. He takes charge and pushes us to succeed. My seniors see him as their inspiration. He has been teaching Math for 40 years, so he tends to take his job very seriously. In fact, if a student leaves his book in his locker or at home, he will send them to Jones County or Jerusalem if necessary. You never know what to expect from the time you enter his classroom until the bell rings to leave. He is the Northeast version of Lean on Me's Joe Clark. His most famous greeting, "Hello Dere",. Can be heard as you walk down my first flight of stairs in Lasseter. One word to describe him is unpredictable. I am honored to recognize Mr. Thrunell Johnson for his hard work, dedication, and most of all his personality. So it is to you, Mr. Johnson, that the Class of 2001 dedicates Valhalla 2001. We love you and will never forget you.

Wonderful seniors, you have now completed all four paths of the Northeast Voyage. I must commend you for being hard-working, dedicated and determined. You all have displayed outstanding ability and skill. Dauntless and courageously you have stood right in the face of countless challenges. Do you hear that? I hope that you do. Yes, it is I; my walls are applauding you. I am so very happy to see you all do well! Truly, class of 2001, you are worthy of being in the hall of Valhalla where all my memories are stored and remembered.

I know, I know, you have left my home but you have not left my spirit, memory or my heart. You have completed one voyage, but there is another journey that lies ahead of you next. Real life is but a mere step away. I encourage you to continue to "Carpe Diem," (Seize the (Day). "Focus" is something you need in order to survive the halls of life. Don't let anyone take your focus away. Never give up on your dreams. The sky is the limit and I guarantee you that it is a big world out there. Work hard, strive for the best and reach for all the stars in the sky. Make me proud that you will not only graduate, but you will continue to do well. Most importantly, make YOU proud of you.

aiders, this year you have been one active bunch! You have taken part in the action at NE-and had lots of fun. Think about the field trips—to colleges, to the Career Fest, to competitions, and to plays. You really kept the transportation department hopping. I am really proud to see the favorable impression you imprint in the world beyond Valhalla. You also made my chest swell during Spirit Week. Spirit flowed freely throughout the entire week preceding and culminating with homecoming. Spirit Day was awesome. Vivid Red, Gold, Black, and White plastered my hallways, breezeways, and classrooms. That night the 2000 homecoming court stole the show at half time. Kellie Blash and Brandion Johnson were the lucky two ultimately chosen to be our 2000 Homecoming Queen and King. Out of Town

In my halls many Raiders have died and are remembered. But, there is one man whose heroic actions led him to be honored with the nation's highest decoration for bravery — the U.S. Medal of Honor. Sgt. Rodney M. Davis was a well-known and respected man. During one of the thousands of battles fought in Vietnam, Davis sacrificed his life for his country. Posthumously, Davis earned the nation's highest decoration for bravery, and now the Navy has even commissioned a ship in his name. I think his story is one we all should imprint in our hearts....

Rodney Maxwell Davis was born April 7, 1942, in Macon Georgia. After he graduated from Peter G. Appling High School on May 29, 1961, he enlisted in the United States Marine Corps. It was here that he began his short but heroic career in the military that made his name famous. On September 6, 1967, he had been in Vietnam for only one month. As the right guide of 2nd platoon for company "B", Davis was part of the 1st Marine Division. He was 25 years old and a 6-year Marine Corps Veteran. During an attack from the North Vietnamese Army regulars he gave his men orders, while at the same time he moved from man to man shouting words of encouragement.

Davis came to a halt — an enemy grenade had just landed among them. Davis threw himself on the grenade, absorbing with his own body the full force of the explosion. He died at the young age of 25, leaving behind a wife and two small daughters. The absence of such a great and courageous man has left an unfilled spot in our ranks and hearts. I think Rodney died for a cause in which he believed. "He was willing and ready to go to Vietnam because he felt he was doing a service; he did not hesitate about going," said his mom Ruth Davis. Comdr. Craig Heckert of Philadelphia named his ship after Rodney. The USS Rodney M. Davis is a highly automated, multi-purpose ship designed to counter threats from aircraft, submarines and surface ships. It is ready in both peace and war and upholds the highest standards of both the Marine Corp and the Navy. This is an awesome tribute to an incredibly awesome young man. Rodney M. Davis epitomizes true "Raider Spirit" — and his spirit will live forever in the Valhalla halls.

Usually it is a fashion nightmare to come to school, and see someone who is dressed identically to you. This day gives most of you the opportunity to dress like your closest friends. Some of you even went and bought special matching outfits just for the day. You tried to be next to your twin as much as possible that day, so everybody would know that they were your twin.

start thinking about the future.

Well breakout the platforms and bring out the bellbottoms. You really didn't have to dig too deep, because you just bought some for school. The girls had it made, because 70's fashion is leading more into our current direction. Boys had to go looking for old suits, afro wigs, short leather jackets, and fur coats. You really did show out. I watched you get into it at the 70's dance, held sixth period. Many of you were break dancing, popping and locking, and there was also a lot of bump going on.

Waiting on "tacky" day, were you? Well I put a cease to that "tacky" day was just another word for "no dress code." So I thought long and hard, what would be a good day? Who is always in dress code to the max, always looks intelligent, and never looks like a clown? A geek. Wouldn't you rather be a geek than tacky? Wherever you found those thick glasses, please leave them where they came.

THE DAY WE "SHOWED OUT"

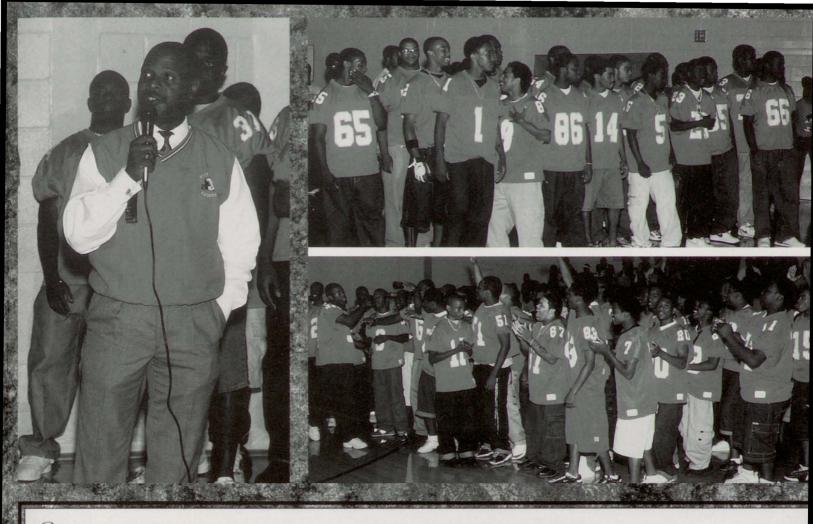

It's the morning after a long year's rest. Red, Black, Gold, and White flash before me as my eyes first peek open. I woke up pretty early this morning just so I wouldn't miss anything. "Spirit Day" is to me what Graduation is to you all. This is the day that you all decorate my halls and doors making me feel special. My classes unite to show their class spirit. Many of you follow Ms. Cook's wishes by wearing school colors or school related T-shirts. After a long day of anticipation, everybody's favorite part of the day finally comes - the pep rally. When the bell rings for sixth period, you are now amped; you are waiting for your classroom to be called, so that you can go assemble with the rest of your classmates. Finally you are here, and as you hear the first beat from the drum, you get butterflies. As the band walks in you jump to your feet because now you know that it is time to chant against the other classes. All I hear is FRESHMEN, SOPHOMORES, JUNIORS and SENIORS. are asked to hush so that the program may begin. As you finally settle, Coach Copeland speaks You show love to the cheerleaders as Mrs. Dinkins is calling their names. They perform a great cheer with stunts. I watch your eyes get big when you see them go up in the air because you are amazed and impressed.

Coach Wright comes up and introduces my mighty Raider football team. You all make sure your classmates feel special as their names are being called. We are all cheering to congratulate them on their past wins and encouraging them to go out and do the same thing against Mary Persons High School. There was one part of the Pep Rally that you all are not waiting for; the reason you aren't waiting for it is because you don't know about it. None of you see me coming. I am watching the whole pep rally through the door. I am waiting on you all to give me the feeling that the pep rally gives you. As Aminah asks you all to "get crunk," you see four "ghost-like" figures approaching the middle of the floor. GHPPs "Throw Your Hands Up" beat drops and we all unite at that point. It's you and me. It is no longer about classes, band, cheerleaders, or football, we are all uniting as a school. Your smiles and energy, as I run through Davion, Brandon, Ireko and Sebastion's bodies, put a big grin on my face. Then comes the main event. I am going to see which class has the most spirit. Each class represents well, and everyone wants to know who the winner is. Well all I can tell you is this; you look at the winner every morning.

My Advanced Content and AP students broadened their horizons this year with a fun filled trip to Atlanta. And knowing how you love to eat, the first stop was naturally in McDonough for breakfast. You enjoyed yourselves at such places as McDonalds, Burger King, Mrs. Winners, and Arby's. While some students sat and socialized, others reverted back to their childhood days in the famous McDonalds' Playpen. Then it was on to the Fox Theater, where you saw Romeo and Juliet, the ballet version. You were spellbound watching the vivid characters move around the stage. While no words were spoken, you understood the piece from beginning to end, and sometimes even found yourselves filling in the words in your head. It was a breathtaking performance! Your next stop was the CNN Building, near Centennial Park. You divided into two separate groups, ate lunch, and then toured the production studios. As the tour began, you were taken to the top floor and into a room where the CNN personnel explained some basic technical knowledge so you would understand what all was taking place. The tour took you through newsrooms and editing rooms of the many CNN

CANNO studio tour

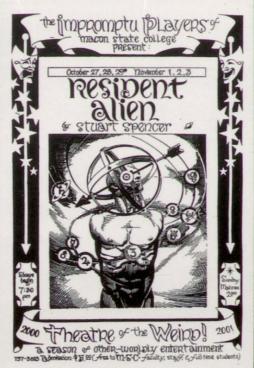

PRESS PASS

stations and affiliates. I think I might have a future journalist or two in my midst! After the tours were finished you decided to go over to Centennial Park together and enjoy the refreshing sprinklers. some of you decided that getting wet was not such a good idea, the others ran and played in the Olympic Rings-we even convinced Ms. Cook to join in the fun! The ride back home was quiet and peaceful as you reflected on your venture from my halls to experience new educational opportunities. I hope you enjoyed yourselves my hardworking dents; you deserved

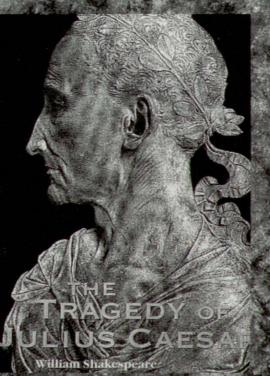

You were so excited and happy the day you went to Macon State College. This was your first "senior" trip! While you knew the play was going to be a comedy, the idea of an alien becoming romantically involved with an "earthling" stunned you a bit. Remember the bar scene?-Well, enough about that. At the play's end you were ready to head to the mall for lunch. While most of you fed your faces, some of you couldn't resist those mall bargains. But the most "unforgettable" part of the day was when two seniors didn't return to the bus on time and were left stranded at the Macon Mall. Shame on you! My lips are sealed as to your identities-but you know who you are.

What an intriguing performance for my 10th graders to see! You had to wait outside awhile before being seated in the theater, but it was definitely worth it. Just like Shakespeare's text, the play was rather slow moving at first. But as the conspirators formed their plot the tension increasingly built, culminating with Caesar's bloody death. Following the performance, the actors took the time to talk to you and answer questions. This allowed you to see the necessary commitment and hard work of these "down to earth" thespians. were left "zapped" of energy from the play's intensity, but you also left with a heightened awareness of the impact of live theater. After all, 'seeing is believing."

My fellow Raiders and Raiderettes are living proof that dreams can come true. Watching my students and faculty come out and support the teams made me come and show off. The football team's success was a major part of my identity this year. I saw how you went to the mall to buy your new outfit for the NE vs. SW basketball game. I saw how anxious you were to stand in line to buy tickets, sometimes only to discover the game was sold out. I was there!

What would your life be like without sports? Without that ambition to win, we would definitely fail. Go Raiders! Go out there and conquer. Daily I witness your unrelenting perseverance and commitment as you TAKE TIME TO COMPETE. Yes, you have proved yourselves to me and to the entire Raider family. I am happy to be the reason behind your sweat and your tears. Thank you for working so hard to maintain a reputation of which I can be proud.

WE'RE ROUGH, WE'RE TOUGH WE'RE SO UNIQUE!

These young ladies are the ones responsible for introducing me at their football and basketball games. Their smiles and cheers pep the fans up. And there I am, in the midst of it all. These dedicated girls have stuck by through thick and thin. Whether my Raiders and Raiderettes are winning or losing, they are right there by the sides. But cheering at games is not the only cheering that gets done. The cheerleaders get the fans going at the Pep Rallies too. My favorite cheer is "We Got the Spirit!" Thank you cheerleaders for keeping me alive.

Look at the smile on Tiffany's face. Can't you tell she was made to do this?

"One, we are the Raiders. Two, a little bit louder. Three, I still can't hear ya. Four, more, more, more. ONE!"

Head Football Coach

Carror C. Wright

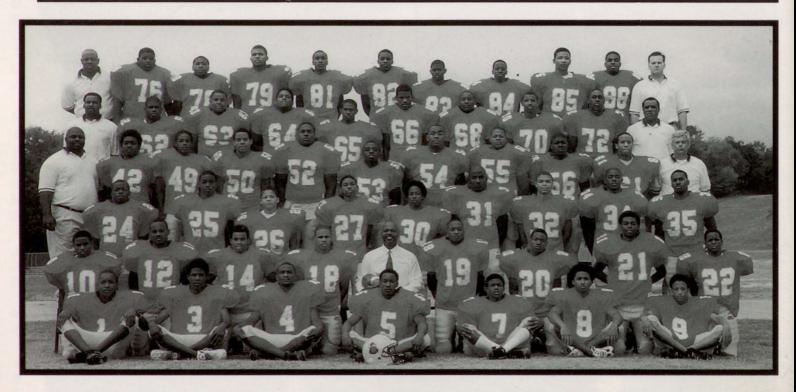

Carror Wright is a Middle Georgia native from Johnson County High, where he excelled in football and track. He earned a degree in Health and physical Education from Fort Valley State University, along with being a four-year letterman in football (WR) and track and field (sprinter).

2000 FOOTBALL COACHING STAFF

Walter Daniely, Floyd Abel, Dewey Morris, Coach Wright, Bruce Mullen, Calvin Rogers, and Hubert Hogan

Wright began his career in 1979 at Johnson County High coaching defensive backs. In 1985 he returned to coaching as a member of the Worth County Rams. The Rams played for the Class AAA Football State Championship four times and won the title in 1987.

My Raiders have really made me proud this year. With me in their hearts they showed how dedication and hard work pays off. With my seniors starting their freshmen season off with a not so perfect winning record and then to become the 2000 City Champs, made me come out of the closet. They were determined. I saw it in their practice, before the game, on the field, and the smiling faces after winning. The Raiders have been through a lot and they've truly earned the respect they deserve. After winning half the games played, my fellow students began to believe in my Raiders. So I want to say Congratulations and "Tick Tock, Tick tock the Raiders!" I dedicate this next page to you

We did it! My Raiders played the game and won the title of "City Champs." It took place the night they played Central High School at Henderson Stadium. They needed this win and for Southwest to be defeated. In the 4th Quarter, Northeast was winning by two points. Central had the ball. The ball was soon thrown toward the end zone. Central had made the winning touchdown. Soon a flag was thrown on the play. Apparently the opponent dropped the ball before he got to the end zone. My Raiders and the fans jumped up and shouted.

CHANPS!

5...4...3...2...1! Northeast won the game. I saw the excitement as I soared through the stands and onto the field. Tears of joy were in their eyes. Moments later, they were greeted with the best news — Southwest lost their game. You should have seen they way they ran across Henderson's field. Boy was that a sight! I was there and saw it all. This football season was one to remember. All that practicing really paid off. I only hope we will get even better next season and bring home the state title! Again, congratulations on the hard work. Thanks to those who did not give up.

Cross Country Raiderettes

My Raiders and Raiderettes have done a tremendous job this year. They beat out the heat and succeeded. I saw each of you as you ran those 3 miles around the school and down Wood Valley Drive. I even saw the sneaky things you did. For example, I saw you taking breaks once you were out of Coach Copeland's eye. Congratulations to Stephanie Smith for being the team's MVP.

Cross Country Raiders

Running Cross Country prepares my Raider and Raiderettes for other various sports, such as track and basketball. These dedicated young men and women work hard and they are on their way. With me in their hearts, I know that everything will be alright. Next year I plan to see more of my students come out and take this challenge. I dare you!

When you think of the word "teamwork", what do you think about? Well, I think about my Raiderette basketball team. These talented young ladies come together and play the game. This year our team is led by one senior, Jennifer Harper. All of the girls do a tremendous job on game day. My girls rank #1 in the city as well as the region. I am so proud of them. You know I will always be there forever because, you've kept me around for all these years. Basketball is a sport that requires hard work, dedication, sweat, and good health. My girls demonstrate that, and a lot more. I see how hard they practice after school, and the work pays off during a game. I love you all so much. Keep up the good work and good luck girls!

Definition of a Raiderette

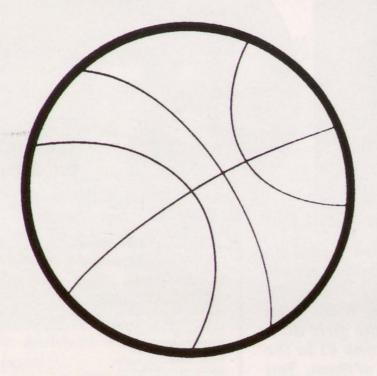

It was a rainy afternoon That I'll never forget; I was stopped by some Patriots, Seminoles, and Bravettes: They enclosed me all around; Our fierce glances met; I stood tall with a smile; I didn't break a sweat. I said, "Pardon me, Ladies, But I must be on my way; The distinguished Raiderettes are Volunteering today. They rolled their eyes and shook their heads; Several of them stepped forward and said, "I despise your kind; You ain't all that;

Like a day-old coke, Your kinda flat! You say you're as good as good can get, But just what is a Northeast Raiderette?" "Take heed," I said, as I began; "Jot down notes; inform your friends; A real Raiderette is one of a kind; With good looks alone, we'll blow your mind. Intelligent, ambitious, sensuous and sassy, Not prissy or catty, but elegant and classy, Athletic, artistic, academic are we, Divine, proud, strong sisters forever; We stand our ground, fight battles together. Raiderettes are impenetrable, impossible to stop, Goal-oriented, optimistic, we're headed to the top. And there you have it, a true Raiderette; Inhale and digest it, and never forget!"
The girls began crying, then dropped to their knees; "May we enroll at Northeast and be Raiderettes, please?"

WRESTLING

Wrestling has always been a quiet sport, but the actions very well speak louder. My team has been through it all. This year's wrestling team was led by two seniors, Riccardo Hall and Larico Anderson. All these young men have the talents and ability. I see it when they are practicing and when they are at the matches. Keep up the good work!

NATIONAL SIGNING DAY

Wednesday, February 7, 2001 changed the lives of two young men at Northeast High School, Corey Harden and TaVoris Horton. These two young men have represented Northeast through sports, as well as academics. Both men had various schools to choose from. TaVoris had to choose between Notre Dame, University of Georgia, Tennessee, Auburn, and many more. His struggle was between UGA and Auburn. TaVoris thought hard and chose Auburn, where his position will be Linebacker. Corey had to choose between Albany State, UGA, Auburn, Morehouse, Florida, and others. Corey chose to sign with Morehouse, where his position will be Free Safety.

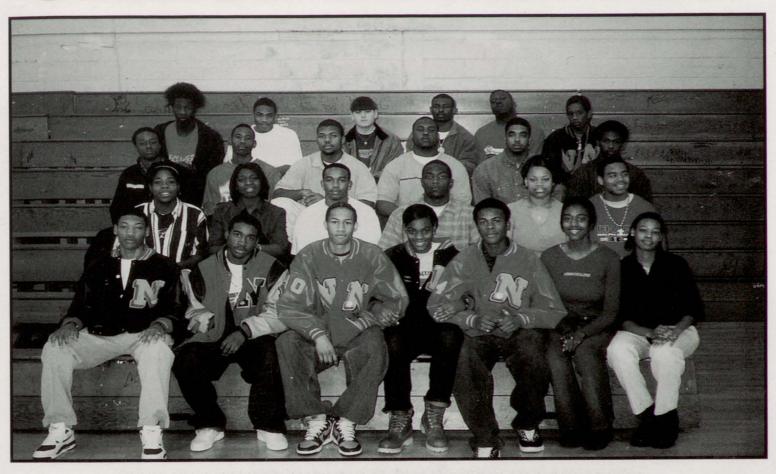

Northeast also had a young lady step up on the scene, Jennifer Harper. She has excelled in basketball for four years. She also had a struggle in choosing the perfect school. She had to choose from GA Southern, Middle Tennessee St., East Tennessee, Tennessee St., College of Charleston, and University of North Carolina of Wilmington. Jennifer chose College of Charleston. I am so proud of these students. Good luck in the future. I wish you nothing but the best.

SENIOR ATHLETES

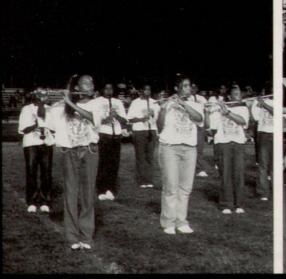

Almost every day during and after school, many of my Raiders get together to participate in different clubs and organizations. Student Council is one of our most visible clubs on campus, for it is our own student body government and represents all of the classes at NEHS. We have a college-oriented club, PREP, with over 40 members enrolled, and business-oriented clubs, FBLA and DECA. There is a club for everyone's interests. Spanish, French, Key, Math, Science, BETA, VOCA, VICA, FFA—the list goes on and on. And then let's not forget the organizations of Band, ROTC, Salmagundi, and the Valhalla! But all of these opportunities ensure that my Raiders are always TAKING TIME TO PAR- TICIPATE here at Northeast. They represent their school, and more importantly themselves, well. These clubs expand their minds and motivate them to work to make their surrounding communities better places in which to live. Through volunteering and competitions, these students are learning some important "life lessons."

can't believe I've finally reached the final chapter of Valhalla 2001. I've witnessed the incredible amount of time and commitment this year's staff has invested in making this unique record of Northeast memories. I can feel your hearts on each and every page, knowing your unrelenting perseverance to create the best yearbook in my history. And to think that you allowed me, the Spirit of NE, the privilege of telling this amazing story. I am forever touched and honored.

And then I look at the entire Northeast family and I know that you all are the reason I am so healthy and strong. My vitality is directly linked to your involvement with me. Those of you now reading these pages supported me financially in this volume's creation...#28! And special word of gratitude goes to the Class of 2001. You have overwhelmed me with your enthusiasm and dedication to me. Just look at the Senior Memory Ad section as many of you reflect on your childhood and high school memories. Your children will one day look at these pictures and gain a better perspective of what you were like as a young person. My gratitude is also extended to our community for helping make this publication possible. Support these businesses, as they most generously made financial donations so my story could be recorded. Yes, it has definitely been a year when our entire community has TAKEN

Yet this book is most certainly the culmination of one young lady's vision. It was my Editor-in-Chief, Aminah Dixon, who envisioned, designed, and helped a highly dedicated staff implement an annual that is truly my story. She took the time to listen to my walls and record what they had to say. While I'm staying right here on this hill, it's time for her to move on and embrace the life I've helped prepare her for. This is her farewell: "As a student at Northeast High School I have learned many things that will forever follow me in my life. I have learned to deal with people and I have learned to understand people. I will be forever grateful for the opportunity to be a part of your memory at Northeast. As a freshman I never had a yearbook so there wasn't really much to reflect on. My goal was to make sure that no other freshman class would ever have to go through that again. This book is in some way my child. Just as a child does, this book requires a lot of dedication, attention, and people to support it. So Northeast my 'last will and testament' is this; I Aminah Dixon of creative mind and big heart leave behind my 'baby', my sweat, my tears, and my heart, I leave Valhalla 2001."

THE SEEDLING By: Paul L. Dunbar

As a quiet little seeding Lay within its darksome bed, To itself it fell a-talking, And this is what it said: To be sure, the haste and hurry Made the seeding sweat and pant; But almost before it knew it It found itself a plant.

"I am not so very robust, But I'll do the best I can;" And the seedling from that moment Its work of life began. The sunshine poured upon it, And the clouds they gave a shower; And the little plant kept growing Till it found itself a flower.

So it pushed a little leaflet Up into the light of day, To examine the surroundings And show the rest the way. Little folks, be like the seeding, Always do the best you can; Every child must share life's labor Just as well as every man.

The leaflet liked the prospect, So it called its brother, Stem; Then two other leaflets heard it, And quickly followed them. And the sun and shower will help you Through the lonesome, struggling hours, Till you raise to light and beauty Virtue's fair, unfading flowers.

"Be not deceived; God is not mocked: For whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap." ... Galatians6:7

Sow wisely and reap joyously!

With love, Cassandra Ellsberry and Angeline Allison

Love always and forever, Your parents and your sister

It's not enough to have a dream unless you're willing to strive for it.

It's not enough to know what's right unless you're strong enough to do it. It's not enough to join the crowd, to be acknowledged and accepted. You must be true to your ideas, even if you're pushed away.

It's not enough to reach or love unless you care enough to give it.

Love forever, Mama

To God be the Glory, for the Great things He has done.

A lot of people told me They said would not make it. would be here at this point I am glad I finally met Brown. inspiration, Mrs. Janie my She taught me to let go and be myself and let God lead the way. Northeast High School has been a great memoir in my life. It has been a stepping ladder to greater success. I have had good and bad times. I have lost many friends but gained close ones.

I have opened my life to God and since my life has been so grand, I would like to thank the following people: Mr. Alan Hale Wickes, Shanella Henry, Lanita Pless, Tyra Cornegay, Angela Gordon, Mr. DuBois, Ebony Brown, Chanis Nixon, Bethany Powell, Alfred Riggins, Lashunda Cook, Niger Brown, Malik Brown, Africa-Brown Smart, and Mr. C. J. Brown. These people have taught me life-long lessons that have helped me grow up to be the proud, tall, intelligent, and beautiful black woman that I am today. To all these people I say THANK YOU. I pray for your peace and good in life. I dedicate this to Mrs. Francis DeBerry, Mr. Melvin DeBerry, Miss Alicia Blash, Miss Deidra DeBerry, and my favorite Miss Erica Mariah DeBerry.

My Journey has not ended, but just begun ...

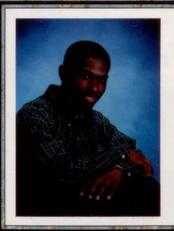

Congratulations Elisha, you're a big girl now. Even though I wasn't there all the time, you still made it through. You have made others and me so proud of you. You have shown us what it means to succeed and become somebody in life. Even when those were in doubt of you, still you hung strong. There is nothing you can't do. You have already shown us that. So remember to keep your head up and don't let anyone steal your joy.

When we first met, my life began to change instantly. I was finally united with my other half. We haven't been able to make up for all the years we've missed out on, but I look forward to being able to spend some memorable times together this last year of high school. Always remember that I will always love you no matter what. I wish you nothing but success in the future. Always make the right decisions in your everyday life. It will soon be over!

For My Beautiful Daughter

I looked at you today And saw the same beautiful eyes That looked at me with love When you were a baby.

I looked at you today And saw the same beautiful mouth That made me cry when you first smiled at me When you were a baby.

It was not long ago That I held you in my arms Long after you fell asleep And I just kept rocking you All night long.

I looked at you today
And saw my beautiful daughter
No longer a baby
With a full range of emotions and feelings
And ideas and goals
Everyday is exciting
As I continue to watch you grow.

And I want you to always know that
In good and bad times
I will love you
And no matter what you do
Or how you think
Or what you say
You can depend on
My support, guidance,
Priendship and love
Every minute of the day.

I love being your mother Keep up the good work And stay focused Let God lead the way Love. Ma

The Little Ship

I saw a little ship at sail Upon a wide, wide sea. And its courage as it sailed along, Seemed awfully brave to me. In usual terms it would be said Its urge was far too strong But when it reached the other shore, It proved this theory wrong. Which indicates there is no chore We cannot fail to do, If we but have the fighting will to see Our aim come true. For though the challenges we face are as a Wide, wide sea When we meet them with full effort, Full success will be achieved. Love, Your Big brother Bennie

A Sister's Love

Although I didn't choose you as my sister, As you had no choice for a sister in me. I have been so lucky to have been given you, As you're the best sister there could ever be.

What we share together is so special; Unlike what we share with anyone else. As we have a bond that only sister's can feel, Because in each other we see a part of ourselves.

Being individuals we may not always agree, But that is just part of us all being unique. Yet I know that I can always turn to you, And you'll be my strength when I am weak.

You've been more than just a sister to me. As over the years you have been a best friend. A blessing I've been given, which has no end.

We've shared our lives, our laughter and tears, And grown as close as two sisters could be. You're an important part of my life, and I love you; I'm so glad that you have been a sister for me!

> Love, Gloria & Ben

This is not a friendship ad or personal ad, but a thank you ad. Thanks for what? Who is there when trials and tribulations are in the air? Who is there when family isn't? You guys have been there every step of the way. This is not to say our relation-

God has given me the chance create a network of people who are always there for me whenever 1 need them. I made me who I am today, but y'all have given me one important thing — the strength to remember who I really am. And for that I am forever grateful. I love and thank you all.

Minah

P.S. I thank y'all the most for giving me something and someone to care for. While our future paths are uncertain, just know that you will always be close in my heart.

Congratulations Ruby!

We are so proud of you. Good luck in the future.

SHARON

Over the years, you have matured so much. You are very independent, very talented, and you've stood tall through it all. Sharon, times might get harder before they get better, but God is always by your side. We hope your future will always be as bright as the smile on your face. On those rainy days, always think about the love God has for you. Congratulations in your senior year and may you always be successful. Always remember that you climb the ladder to success with many, but you fall alone.

Graduating Senior
Of 2001
Love ya!
Mommy and Daddy

Donald,

October 20, 1982 was very special to us. It was the day that God brought you into our lives. From the moment we first laid eyes on you, we knew you were a special child. You were an eight-pound spitting image of your Momma! Through the years, we have watched you grow from a baby into a fine young man. Though obstacles have sometimes appeared in your path, you some how, some way, always overcame them.

And here you are today; about to embark on that journey called life. When we look into your eyes we see the future, a world of opportunities. We are proud to say that you're our son and brother. We know that you will succeed in life and all its' adventures. Reach high and never look low. Remember you're the best and never settle for less. May God bless you and keep you as you reach for your goals in life. Always keep in mind, you are our shining star, our dream come true.

With love,
The Williams Family

Congratulations My Angel,

You have accomplished something that a lot of teenagers have not been able to. The day you came into this world, I knew that you were going to be all you could be. Strive and work hard for what you want. You have proved that to me many times. Taletha, you still have a long road to travel and a lot of things to learn. Let nothing or no one stop you from striving for the things you want in life. You are mine forever. Good luck.

Love, Mama IALETHA

To my loving niece,

Taletha, I am very proud of you for what you have accomplished thus far in your life. You have come a long way in your education, but you also have a long way to go. So do not let anything get in your way. Stay focused and keep an open mind. Study hard and keep all goals in mind. One day you will be able to have on be anything that you desire in life. It is not going to be easy. So just take one day at a time and you will see everything fall into place. So Good Luck! Stay focused and I love you!

Your uncle, Timothy Stone

I wish you the best of luck and much success in reaching your goals in the near future.

Friendship is the most important treasure Life without each other would not be a pleasure. We talk about all our deepest secrets

-BIG and small

Knowing that we will remain friends through it all. We have watched each other grow up and become young ladies

Others are envious and may think that we are shady. We are unique and different, as that is what keeps us together

We keep it real, and never misunderstood
Some try to be as tight, others wish they could.
Soon that day will come when we will have to depart,
Only in sight, but not from one's heart.

LaKeisha Fowler

Much success to the Graduating Class of 2001. May God continue to bless us all as we leave these Northeast halls.

Congratulations April Denise Curry

Kevin Devon Caple

Dear Kevin,

This year you graduate high school! Where does the time go so quickly? It seems like only yesterday we were bringing you from Coliseum Hospital as a newborn baby. You have been such a blessing for us to watch grow and progress. Dad, your brothers, and I are so very proud of you and your achievements. We realize that God has richly blessed you.

Your assertiveness and determination are admirable traits. Should we also talk about strong-will? Behind that sweet smiling face is a strong will that can be a great advantage if you surrender it to God and use it in service to your Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ.

Use your will to do what is right and you'll succeed in life, no matter what you undertake to do. Always remember Proverbs 3:5-6

Trust in the Lord with all thine heart; and lean not unto thy own understanding. In all thy ways acknowledge Him, and he shall direct thy path.

We love you and again offer our sincere congratulations to you on this your high school senior year.

You are the realest girl I know. You and I have been together since day one. I have watched you grow from an immature smart mouth to a mature leader. You have allowed me to open up to many people. Your thoughtfulness and willingness to give to others is what makes you a very special person. You have never blocked your blessings before, and you have blessed others anyway that you know how. The way you think is what keeps you strong, the way that you just know that you are going to be all right amazes me. After all you have been through, and all the mistakes that you have made, you still made through all right. You have truly defeated all odds. I am proud of you. Love. Your Heart.

We are so proud of you on what you have accomplished in life. Stay strong and don't give up on yourself. We love you very much.

Love, Mama & Granny

Chris,

You don't know what it means to me to see you graduating with me this year. There were many times when I didn't see this day coming. After all these years of tears, I now cry tears of joy. I hope that you see why I found it important for you to graduate with me. I hope that you go far in life, and keep that drive to prove all haters wrong. Chris I see your TRUE colors, you just need to let them shine through.

Your Girl, Minah

CONGRATS

Taletha.

I have seen you hit a major 360. We both know how you were in the ninth grade, and it was not a pretty sight. Just like any smart person, you saw the error of your ways, and immediately corrected them. You were responsible enough to PAY the price. But at the end, you are a senior, you get out early, and you passed the GHSGT. Taletha I am very proud of you. I'll see you at G. State, hopefully.

Your Girl, Minah

Chauncey, I am also blessed to have you as a son. I thank God for your love, kindness and sensitivity. It has been a joy to see you mature into the young man that you have become. As you travel this road called life always keep God first.

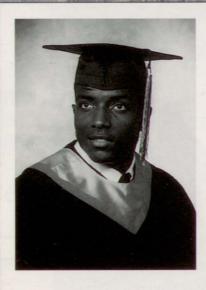

Thank you for being a positive person in your brother's life.

Congratulations! We love you, Momma & "Tee"

Dear TaVoris M. Horton.

I am so very proud of you. You have really turned out to be an impressive young man. When I see you day by day, maturing and being more responsible, it really makes me smile. I admire you so much. I wish you the best in following your dreams and know you will attain them all. You will always be my "Superman" — and I will always be your #1 fan. Remember to always leave it in the Lord's hands. Love you.
